ON DAIMLER NEGOTIATIONS

APR. 3, 2024

TICK TOCK...

Your DTNA Bargaining Council met with the Company's representatives this morning and then again this afternoon and passed specific proposals on members' demands for:

- Adding Cost of Living Adjustments (COLA) to the contract
- Allowing for the right to strike if the Company fails to abide by its obligations on job security and/or threatens to shut down a plant
- “Neutrality” on new organizing, meaning that the Company will stay out of the way in our efforts to organize non-union Daimler shops
- Shortening the six-year progression

Other than the remarkable announcement that the Company has “no interest” in sharing the Corporation’s grotesque profits with the workers so they can keep every penny for the shareholders and executives and declaring that the Company has “no interest” in any job security for probationary employees (both contained in the Union’s opening proposals), the Company representatives nodded, took long breaks, and gave us no substantive responses.
